Outside Island Entrants Are Active

AMBITIOUS TRIP EARNERS SECURE SATISFACTORY RESULTS

The Immediate Neighborhood of Every Contestant Is a Fertile Vote Field.

The activities of the travel contest are not confined to Honolulu. Outside Island candidates came to the fore Saturday by the Mauna Kea mail, a number of them sending in subscription orders that would do credit to the work of a regular subscription man.

One of the Hawaii candidates, a school teacher on the Hamakua coast will undoubtedly become one of the strong trip entrants. By starting with a systematic canvass of her immediate neighborhood she secured in a few days time more than twelve thousand votes.

In Line for Extra Prizes. It is of the kind that will secure the Bulletin trips. While twelve thousand votes are comparatively few, to what will be required at the contest end, it is a fair start for any candidate and before April 19th this candidate will be among those who are close contestants for the supplementary prizes.

Showing First Requirement. Contestants should concentrate their efforts from now to the date of the first April count, in order to show their friends, when the results of this count are published, that they are active candidates that must be considered as industriously after the Call-forth trips. A showing is the first requisite. The time to make that showing is when you have an opportunity to win one of the first supplementary prizes offered in the contest. There is no candidate who cannot use to advantage one of the mercantile orders. There are going to be more prizes later but none will be offered on exactly the same terms as set down for the leader premiums.

Count On Future Offers. Trust that your chance is coming. The Bulletin contest man has told some of the candidates to never be discouraged at their low standing until it is announced that the very last prize offer has been made. You can not possibly tell just how these prize offers will be worded. Perhaps, understand, one will be made offering a beautiful and valuable prize for the candidate who makes the largest vote increase, in a specified time. This would give every candidate a chance, even if at the time it was made, they only had the 5000 votes given with each nomination to their credit.

Interest In Uncertainty. Contests are interesting for just the very fact of the uncertainty that must enter every test of popularity or energy. But it is uncertainty, as to just how various offers are to be made.

Everyone knows that there is never any uncertainty as to the Bulletin giving every trip offered. Bulletin contests among the people who have been interested in them in past years have an unquestioned record for fairness. No candidate need ever feel in doubt about a square deal. The Bulletin has been making these trip offers annually for several years, and if for no other reason, than it is good business for the Bulletin to do so, you can always depend on the Bulletin giving exactly everything promised.

Get a Pen. The fountain pen offer is still in effect and almost all of the active candidates have been supplied with one. If you have not received one, you should try and get your first subscription club in time to take advantage of the offer.

Pen Offer Renewed. The free fountain pen offer made the first week of the travel contest has been renewed with a little change in the terms. An Onoto fountain pen from Arleigh's will be given every contest candidate or worker for their first subscription of three new or three old yearly daily subscriptions. The club order must reach the Bulletin office before 5 p. m. Wednesday, April 12.

No Blank Ballots. Absolutely no subscription coupons are allowed to leave the contest department unless filled out showing the name of the candidate for whom they are to be cast. There are no blank ballots excepting the ones run in the regular issues of the Bulletin. This provides a perfect safeguard against the transferring of votes. Votes once issued can not be taken out later for someone else.

Always give the name of the candidate for whom you wish votes cast when making subscription payments to the Bulletin.

How Named

Evening Bulletin Subscribers will name the ten travelers. Voting coupons are issued with every subscription payment to the Evening and Weekly Bulletin, and coupons are also published in every issue of the paper. Almost all your friends and neighbors take the Bulletin. The rest will want to when they learn that they get the best newspaper printed in Honolulu with no extra charge, and at the same time help you to get one of the trips.

The eight women who went to the Yosemite last year as the guests of the Bulletin did not hesitate when their nominations were announced. Why do you? You are just as popular; just as deserving; perhaps what is more important—just as energetic; it is possible, you are more so. Earnest endeavor will earn a trip.
